

We retain talent through recognition

Stay Conversations

Proactive check-ins to understand what keeps high performers engaged and identify potential retention risks early through intentional dialogue.

Career Conversations

Employee-owned individual development plans (IDPs) that transform professional goals into actionable milestones with regular manager check-ins.

Strategic Recognition

We recognize in a timely, specific, and authentic way. We incentivize extraordinary performance with financial rewards and ensure all recognition is grounded in equity and fairness.

Honoring Preferences

Our recognition should be grounded in fairness and observable behavior. That means paying attention to how each person actually wants to be recognized. Some people want the public shoutout; others find it mortifying. So we ask, we remember, and we adjust.
