

TALENT DEVELOPMENT + R&D

RETENTION LEVERS

AT WORK.

A practical playbook for managers – how we surface risk, align on action, and keep our top talent.

Retaining L6+ Talent

THE ASK, AND WHY IT MATTERS.

WHAT WE'RE ASKING OF MANAGERS

Identify 5–10 L6+ employees per quarter who have been flagged as top talent.

Actively partner with Talent Development to:

- Understand drivers of engagement and risk
- Explore development, growth, or support actions
- Feed back IDP & stay conversations

WHY THIS MATTERS

At Level 6, we see the highest attrition.

Retention risk shows up early, well before someone decides to leave.

Managers are closest to the work and best positioned to spot signals and act early.

Your role: bring forward risks, partner on actions, use existing levers — growth, conversations, recognition, etc.

Purpose & Focus

WHAT WE'LL DISCUSS EACH MONTH.

– 01 –

Retention levers

Which levers will best retain Level 5 talent — growth, conversations, recognition?
Match the lever to the situation, not the other way around.

– 02 –

Actions

What actions are needed?Who owns them?
What is our scope?
When it will happen?

– 03 –

Signals & shifts

We will review org health metrics.
What has changed since last month?
Are retention risks increasing, decreasing, or stable?

Culture & people managers play an essential role in implementing this system.

Retention Levers · Overview

FOUR LEVERS, APPLIED BY CAREER STAGE.

1

THE FOUNDATION OF RETENTION IS TRANSPARENCY
Retention starts with clarity

Progression frameworks, competencies, and self-driven development — so people know what's expected and what's possible.

2

GROWTH OPPORTUNITIES BY CAREER STAGE
The right training at the right time

Leadership development offerings sequenced for where someone is in their career — not one-size-fits-all.

3

INTENTIONAL CONVERSATIONS
We retain by aligning about development

IDPs and stay conversations: regular check-ins that turn goals into action and surface risks early.

4

RECOGNITION REINFORCES HIGH PERFORMANCE
We retain talent through recognition

Spot bonuses and timely, specific, authentic recognition for the work that moves the business.

RETENTION STARTS WITH CLARITY.

The Foundation Of Retention Is Transparency

Integrated career development framework

THREE BUILDING BLOCKS OF CAREER CLARITY.

Self-Driven Development

Owners of their own career

Encourage every team member to own their career path.
Build an Individual Development Plan (IDP) — a collaborative doc of short and long-term goals.
Incentivize learning through professional development budgets.

Internal Mobility

Learn, explore, develop — internally

Provide visibility into career mobility stories during onboarding.
Clear access to the internal job board.
Processes that make internal moves straightforward.

Progression Frameworks

Visual maps, clear expectations

Increases transparency around role expectations.
Charts potential journeys for team members.
Aligns job levels across the organization.

WE RETAIN BY ALIGNING ABOUT DEVELOPMENT.

Retention Levers · Intentional Career Conversations

Intentional conversations with managers and their team members

TWO CONVERSATIONS THAT MOVE THE NEEDLE.

Stay Conversations

Proactive check-ins to understand what keeps high performers engaged here — and identify retention risks early through intentional dialogue.

Career Conversations / IDPs

Employee-owned individual development plans that turn professional goals into actionable milestones, with regular manager check-ins.

WE RETAIN TALENT THROUGH --- RECOGNITION.

Retention Levers • Recognition Reinforces High Performance

Retention Levers

WE RETAIN TALENT THROUGH RECOGNITION.

We celebrate

Recognize in a timely, specific, meaningful, and authentic way — for the work that moves the business forward.

We incentivize

Financially reward extraordinary performance with spot bonuses tied to clear, observable contribution.

We are equitable

Ground recognition in consistency, fairness, and observable behavior — never in favoritism or proximity bias.

We honor preferences

Some people love the spotlight; others prefer a quiet thank-you. Recognize people in the way that lands for them.

CULTURE IS THE ENGINE.
MANAGERS ARE THE DRIVERS.
RETENTION LEVERS ARE THE CONTROLS*.

People stay for a healthy culture and an excellent manager.

Levers are how managers translate culture into action.

A culture driven by intentional managers looks like

SIX SIGNALS OF A HEALTHY CULTURE.

1 Leadership principles are modeled, not just stated

Leaders demonstrate our principles through everyday decisions and behaviors.

3 Feedback is continuous

Not reserved for formal review cycles — a daily or weekly occurrence.

5 Delegation and stretch goals are tied to real outcomes

Growth opportunities are meaningful, visible, and connected to business impact.

2 Expectations are clear

Set during hiring and reset as expectations change and the bar raises.

4 Psychological safety is fostered

Risks can be taken, honest dialogue can happen, healthy challenge is encouraged.

6 Advocacy is happening

Managers actively sponsor, recognize, and create opportunities for their direct reports.
